Especially important is the fact that formal education today upgrades and complements with the content of informal programs, through which participants acquire new, fresh and above all useful knowledge, which enable them orientation in the global ICT world. In an era of economic crisis is the best thing an individual can do for himself. Exactly that includes free form of education offered by the Lifelong Learning Center Podravje (LLCs Podravje, www.cvzu-podravje.si) and in this way strengthens and expands their horizons.

We organize and implement a series of motivational workshops information to inform you of all people and involvement in education, especially those who have so far been somewhat marginalized in these processes.

Activities for participants in the Lifelong Learning Center Podravje are free, so we will continue in the future. This encouraged us to an extremely high response and satisfaction from participants, who already visited some form of education, whether formal or informal. We are particularly pleased by the fact that a large percentage of participants who attended the initial form of free workshops, immediately decide for advanced workshop. This fills us with joy and even increases our desire for diversity and versatility of lifelong learning offer.
